THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, JUNE 2, 1772.

LONDON, MARCH 30.

ADVICES from Ireland give an account of the inſurrection growing more formidable every day. The people who are in arms are not a raw, undiſciplined mob, but rather a regular army, being compoſed chiefly of deſerters from different regiments, who have fled to the North of Ireland for refuge, and are now got together with the country people, headed by diſcharged veterans, whoſe experience qualifies them for able commanders. The force ſent againſt them is compoſed of five battalions, viz. the 5th, 34th, 42d, 55th, and 62d, Drogheda's Light Horſe, and two ſquadrons of heavy dragoons, all under the command of General Giſborne; and two more regiments are cantoned in and about Port Patrick, to be ready for embarkation, in caſe their aſſiſtance ſhould be wanted. From ſo formidable an appearance, we have but too much reaſon to fear bloody work in that part.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, March 24.

"Letters from Copenhagen adviſe, that Col. Keith, Envoy Extraordinary from England at that Court, having demanded a private audience of the King of Denmark, in order to communicate to him certain overtures he had received from the King his Maſter, relative to the late revolution, and a day being appointed for that purpoſe, Mr. Keith was much ſurpriſed, upon coming into the Audience Chamber, to find, inſtead of the King, ſome Members of his Council of State, who intimated to him, that his Majeſty not being very well he had charged them to receive what he had to communicate, and give him an account of it. Mr. Keith made anſwer, that the orders he had received from his Maſter were to ſpeak to the King in perſon, and not to his Miniſters; and that he was not a little ſurpriſed that after his Daniſh Majeſty had conſented to give him the audience he demanded, he ſhould refer him to his Miniſters, which he ſhould not fail to acquaint the King his Maſter with; after which he retired very much diſſatisfied with his reception. Theſe letters add, that Mr. Keith had declared in a very ſpirited manner, that if the Queen of Denmark is not treated with all the reſpect due to her birth and rank, the King his Maſter will not fail to reſent it."

MARCH 31. This morning about four o'clock, a meſſenger arrived in Cleveland-Row, from Dublin, with diſpatches. About ſeven Lord Rochford waited on his Majeſty with them; at eight Lord North was ſent for, on whoſe arrival, meſſages were alſo ſent to the principal members of the council to attend immediately.

Extract of a Letter from Belfaſt, in the North of Ireland, by way of Port Patrick, March 24.

"Yeſterday in the afternoon, about half paſt three o'clock, the 62d regiment of foot, and five companies of highlanders, came up with a party of about 2000 of the Hearts of Oak, &c. who are entirely compoſed of diſbanded ſoldiers, and the militia that ſo bravely diſtinguiſhed themſelves in Thurot's invaſion in 1760, when a general engagement immediately enſued, in which the regulars were obliged to retire with the following loſs, viz. 62d regiment. Killed 1 captain, 2 lieutenants, 2 enſigns, and 109 rank and file. Wounded 2 captains, 1 lieutenant, and 147 rank and file.----Highlanders. Killed 2 captains, 3 lieutenants, 1 enſign, and 90 rank and file. Wounded 2 lieutenants, 2 enſigns, and 84 rank and file.----Killed, wounded, and priſoners of the inſurgents 500."

APRIL 1. This day his Majeſty went to the Houſe of Peers, and gave the royal aſſent to the following bills, viz. The bill for regulating the future marriages of the Royal Family. The bill for puniſhing mutiny and deſertion, and for the better payment of the army in America. The bill for defraying the charge of the pay and cloathng of the militia. The bill to diſcontinue the inland duty of one ſhilling per pound on ſinglo and black teas, and for allowing a drawback on teas exported to Ireland and the plantations. The bill to allow further time for the inrollment of deeds and wills made by Papiſts, for the relief of Proteſtant purchaſers. The bill for making a navigable canal from the River Dee, near Cheſter, to Nantwich. To the bill for lighting, watching, and repairing St. Mary's, Iſlington. The bill to diſſolve the marriage of Lord Viſcount Ligonier, with his wife Penelope Pitt, and to enable him to marry again. And alſo to ſeveral other public, private, and divorce bills.

On Friday the Prince of Mecklenburgh Strelitz, will ſet out for Hanover.

At a Court of Aldermen held yeſterday at Guildhall, an order was made for raiſing the price of bread half an aſſize, or a penny in a peck loaf, which order will take place to-morrow.

We hear that an augmentation of 300l. per ann. will be made to the ſalary of the Chief Juſtice of Cheſter; and 200l. per ann. to each Chief Juſtice of the great ſeſſions in Wales.

The following are given us as a few inſtances only of the oppreſſions practiſed by the Britiſh government in Aſia, ſince Lord Clive obtained for the Hon. the Eaſt-India Company the management of the revenues of Bengal:

Harris Chund, ſteward to the Raja of Daniſh Pout, was ſcourged to death for not being able to pay his maſter's taxations to the Honourable Company.

Three Jimmindars, or land-renters, in the Purgonnah of Eſaſpour, were ſcourged to death for the unpardonable crime of poverty.

In the Purgonnah of St. Sheicah, a poor man expired on the ſame day, for the ſame crime, under the laſh of oppreſſion.

The Gumeſtah, or agent of the renter of Mamud Shawy, was tied up by the hands to a beam, and dogs tied by the tales to his girdle, which dogs, horrid to relate! devoured him.

The deaths brought about by the puniſhment of the Breeches are very ſlow. This puniſhment, which is reckoned very ingenious, was, perhaps, invented by a fortunate breeches-maker, who became governor of Bengal. The unlucky criminal, for there is no crime ſo great as poverty in our acquiſitions abroad, has his hands tied up to a beam, and his leather breeches tightly bound about his waiſt. He is ſupplied with proviſions; but the excrement, in the ſpace of a few days, brings on a putrefaction and ſtench, which at laſt relieves, by death, the poor wretch.

The laws againſt highwaymen, footpads, and ſtreet-robbers, were ſufficiently ſevere about thirty years ago. But who was to execute them? What was every-body's buſineſs was nobody's. Sir John Fielding's plan ſhewed that we wanted only the ſtrict execution of ſuch laws as we have already had, not the enacting of new ones. In like manner, the laws againſt foreſtalling, engroſſing, and regrating, are now ſufficiently ſevere. But who is to ſee them executed? A correſpondent therefore thinks that if ſuch a magiſtrate were to be appointed in this department, as Sir John Fielding is in the police, he would do more towards reducing the price of butchers meat than all the aſſociations and ſubſcriptions in the kingdom.

On Monday the ſubſcription at the Chapter coffee-houſe, for reducing the exorbitant price of butchers meat, amounted to upwards of 10,000l.

The board of trade have recommended Mr. L. de St. Pierre to the Lords of the Treaſury, as a proper object of their encouragement, in return for that gentleman's having introduced the culture of vines, and the making of ſilk, at his ſettlement of New Bourdeaux, in South-Carolina, which, it is imagined, will be of great benefit to this nation.

Yeſterday died, in Charles-ſtreet, Weſtminſter, Dr. William Broughbridge, aged 112 years, formerly one of the maſters of the Charter-houſe ſchool.

APRIL 2. His Majeſty was attended yeſterday to the Houſe of Peers by his Grace the Duke of Ancaſter and the Earl of Denbigh, when the royal aſſent was given to 65 public and private bills, including thoſe mentioned yeſterday, and alſo to the following, viz. The bill for better lighting, watching, and cleaning the ſtreets in the Royalty of the City of Edinburgh. The bill for better regulating ſhipping in the Port of Glaſgow. The bill for better lighting, watching, and paving Chatham, Kent. The bill for better collecting the rates in the pariſh of St. Botolph, Biſhopſgate, for the relief of the poor, &c.

Robert Knight, Earl of Catherlough, Viſcount Barrells, and Lord Luxborough, of Shannon, Member of Parliament for Milbourn Port, in Dorſetſhire, and Recorder of Great Grimſby, in Lincolnſhire, who died on Monday, was born December 17, 1702, and married in 1727, Henrietta, daughter of Henry, Viſcount St. John, and ſiſter of Henry, Viſcount Bolingbroke, by whom he had iſſue one ſon, Henry, now Earl of Catherlough, who, in 1750, married Frances, daughter of Thomas Heath, of Stanſtead, in Eſſex, Eſq; and one daughter, Henrietta, wife of the Hon. Joſiah Child, brother of Earl Tylney. His Lordſhip married, ſecondly, in 1756, Lady Lequeſne, relict of Sir John Lequeſne, Knt.

Letters from Hambro' mention, that two veſſels arrived there, which had been making diſcoveries in the South Seas, who inſiſt that their return was by the North-Weſt paſſage.

At the Court of Aldermen held on Tueſday laſt, it was referred to a committee of that body, who are to meet tomorrow, to conſider of an application to Parliament in order to reduce the price of bread, for the relief of the poor manufacturers of this metropolis.

We are informed that the Honourable Mr. Stuart, ſon of the Earl of Bute, is returned to town from on board the Marquis of Rockingham Eaſt-Indiaman, in conſequence of that young gentleman's having a proſpect of being better provided for than it is thought he could be by making another voyage to the eaſtern part of the world.

Letters from Dublin mention, that ſome parties of inſurgents, in the North of that country, had divided, and were travelling to more diſtant parts, ranſacking all the villages in their way, and commiting the moſt extreme cruelty upon ſuch of the unfortunate inhabitants as made any attempt to ſecure their property.

As a bill is intended to be brought this ſeſſions into parliament for reſtraining ſtill farther the privilege of franking, ſome of our readers may be deſirous to know what is the origin of that privilege, and upon what foundation it reſts. It is of the ſame date with the eſtabliſhment of the Poſt-Office. When the Commons paſſed the bill impoſing a duty upon letters ſent by poſt, they inſerted in it a clauſe, reſerving to themſelves a privilege of franking their own letters, or ſending them free from poſtage. They took no notice of the Lords. They very naturally, though perhaps not very politely, concluded that their Lordſhips would take care of themſelves, and inſert in it a ſimilar clauſe in their own favour. But in this they were miſtaken. The Lords, provoked at having been overlooked by the Commons, not only inſerted no clauſe in their own favour, but even eraſed that in favour of the Commons; and in this form the bill was ſent back to the Lower Houſe. The alteration of a money bill by the Lords, which the Commons would never allow, and the additional indignity which the latter thought was offered them in the eraſement of their clauſe, would certainly have induced them to reject the bill, had not the miniſtry aſſured them, that if they would paſs it in its preſent ſhape, their letters ſhould be permitted to go free from poſtage. The Commons ſwallowed the bait, and the bill was paſſed: And thus the two Houſes, by their mutual jealouſy, are obliged to depend upon the favour of the Crown for what they intended to have reſerved to themſelves by an expreſs law. For, as the law now ſtands, the King may ſend an order to the Poſt-Office, forbidding the letters of the Members of either Houſe to paſs unpaid for.

On Tueſday laſt was held at Merchant Taylors Hall, the annual feaſt of the gentlemen educated at Merchant Taylors School, when a very numerous and reſpectable meeting teſtified their unanimous approbation of its being reſtored to its former plan, and conducted by ſtewards.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin.

"The Angleſea cauſe is poſtponed to the latter end of April, principally on account of a new claimant, a Mr. Salkeld, who aſſerts his mother was married to Lord Angleſea in the year 1743. The hiſtory of this marriage, as it is every where ſpoken of, is whimſical enough.----Lord Angleſea had ſeen this lady (who was the daughter of a gentleman in the country of England) and fell in love with her, and being ſomewhat of our Eighth Harry's temper ("never to ſpare a woman in his luſt") bribed a ſiſter-in-law of her's, a milliner in Cheapſide, to bring about the buſineſs. She was baſe enough to be an aſſiſtant, and accordingly ſent for this young lady to ſpend a few weeks in town. The other very readily obeyed, and a party being made, by my Lord's planning, to go to the play, he joined them in the character of a grazier, and by fruit, and other little aſſiduities, particularly recommended himſelf to Miſs Salkeld. At the concluſion of the play, the milliner and her friends went off, and the young lady being quite a ſtranger in town, and imagining the loſs of her company to be accidental, threw herſelf for protection on the ſtranger. My Lord availed himſelf of this opportunity, took her to a bagnio, and under the uſual pretence of not being able to get a coach, &c. prevailed upon her to be intoxicated, and then debauched her. He lived with this lady for ſome time, and married her a few months before the birth of the preſent claimant."

Though the principal deſign of the preſent Miniſtry has been to give every ſtretch to the prerogative, it appears in no inſtance ſo ſtrong as their repeated attacks on the Eaſt-India Company. The firſt attack was begun upon them by diveſting them of the power of making their own dividends: Succeeding in this, they next reduced them to a compromiſe of paying into the hands of government an annual ſum of 400,000l. This, as Sir James Hodges judiciouſly obſerved at a late General Court at the Eaſt-India Houſe, was entering into a kind of partnerſhip, where the profits on one ſide were certain, and on the other precarious; and now, as the laſt ſtretch of power, they are not only about contracting the number of their ſhipping, but reducing them to a certain burthen; a circumſtance which has been univerſally allowed will be productive of the moſt alarming conſequences, not only as it will impair the health of the paſſengers, but be an abſolute loſs to the Company of 100,000l. per annum in the difference of freight. Upon the whole then, as it is maniſeſt the paſſing this Bill into a law will reduce the Company to the ſhadow of a Company; ſo to preſerve the climax of oppreſſion, the next ſtep muſt terminate in their diſſolution.

We have ſome authority to aſſure the public, that a new order, to be called the order of St. Patrick, is ſhortly to be inſtituted.--This is ſaid to be a hint of the preſent Lord Lieutenant's to government, for the more effectual conducting the future buſineſs of adminiſtration there.

Extract of a Letter from Holland.

"I am greatly grieved for the poor Queen of Denmark. Poor lady! ſhe has hard meaſure from that diabolical Queen Dowager, who has got all the power into her hands, has in effect dethroned the King, and is making haſty ſtrides to place her own ſon on the throne. I do not ſuppoſe the preſent King of Denmark, or his ſon, will be long lived. They may die ſuddenly, of a violent fever, an apoplexy, palſy, or any thing but p--ſ-n; and depend upon it, if the poor, innocent, impriſoned Queen is permitted to live, it will be owing, under God, more to the dread of Engliſh vengeance than to any other cauſe. Pray God ſend her ſpeedily ſafe to your ſide of the water, for ſhe can hardly be ſaid to be ſafe while in Denmark. I hope ſoon to hear of a fleet ſailing from Spithead to the Sound. Should this be the caſe, and they carry and land troops, they would be joined by the majority of the Daniſh troops and nation, who are highly diſguſted with the late alarming change, notwithſtanding all that the Court now in power there, or proſtitute hireling clergymen, may ſay and declare to the contrary."

A correſpondent obſerves, that Lord North, after having played with a George, for ſome time as a toy, is reſolved, in future, to wear one as a favour.

Dr. Arne is compoſing muſic to the tranſlation of a French piece, called The Coopers, which will appear this ſummer at the Hay-market. Several connoiſſeurs, who have heard part of the muſic, declare it to be "Dr. Arne in all his glory."

It is ſaid the ſteward of a certain noble Duke has decamped with above 300,000l. partly the effects of his maſter, and ſeveral gentlemen in the country, to whom he was many years a banker.

A letter from Derby mentions, that laſt Sunday ſe'nnight, a Coloſſian ſtatue of Apollo, in lead, that ſtood in the garden of James Erwood, Eſq; of that place, was entirely melted by the lightning.

Thurſday laſt died at his houſe in York, aged 88, Lieutenant General Laſcelles, Colonel of the 47th regiment of foot; one of the oldeſt officers in the army.

APRIL 3. Letters from Copenhagen, dated March 20, confirm, that the Chamberlain Rantzan is nominated Envoy from the King of Denmark to the Court of London, where he hath already been in that quality; and that the Baron Diede de Furſtenſtein will go from London to Peterſburgh.

The Duke of Saxe-Gotha's ribband not being yet come over to England, Lord North is yet uninveſted with the Enſigns of the Garter, though he is the Knight appointed by the Sovereign. The Knights of the Garter are never ſuppoſed to die, their ribbands are deemed but tranſferred, and no new one ever appears with the badges of the order, till thoſe of the perſonage he ſucceeds have been delivered to his Majeſty.

His Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to declare, on account of the dearneſs of proviſions, he will not order any regiments to be cantoned near London, in order to be reviewed this year.

Richard Anneſley, the claimant to the titles and honours of Richard the late Earl of Angleſea, is the legitimate ſon of the ſaid Earl, by Ann, ſecond daughter of William Salkeld, of the City of London, merchant, and great grand-daughter to Sir Francis Salkeld, of Whitehall, in the county of Cumberland, and grand-daughter to Elihu Jackſon, Eſq; of Wooldale-Hall, in Yorkſhire.

A Lieutenant of the navy, who went out about the ſame time the Aurora ſailed for the Eaſt-Indies, was unfortunately (from a gale of wind ſpringing up, and the ſhip he belonged to being obliged to cut her cables, and ſtand out to ſea) left on ſhore with his ſon, a young lad of thirteen, on the iſland of Madagaſcar, where they were directly ſtripped by the natives, who, however, did them no other miſchief, but obliged them to travel to a diſtant part of the iſland, where they continued above twenty months, lying in the fields, till they were quite the colour of negroes, and living on vegetables and raw ſhell fiſh: At length an Engliſh veſſel happily touched near the place where they were, and brought them off. They are now come home ſafe on board the Stag man of war.

The above gentleman was examined on Monday laſt by the Directors of the Eaſt-India Company, who liberally made him a preſent of 500 guineas, and have, in the ſtrongeſt manner, recommended him and his ſon to the patronage of the Lords of the Admiralty.

By ſeveral letters from the Eaſt-Indies, brought by the Stag man of war, we are aſſured, that the report ſo induſtriouſly circulated ſome time ſince, of the French having made a new ſettlement in the Iſland of Madagaſcar, is entirely deſtitute of foundation.

It has ſeldom happened that bread, meat, and coals, have been very dear at the ſame time; yet this is the caſe at preſent.---- What are the poor to do without ſpeedy relief?

Yeſterday, at eleven o'clock, the Artillery Company met at their houſe in Moorfields, to elect their principal officers. The poll laſted till paſt eight at night, when the voters ſtood as follow: For the office of Generals, Mr. Alderman Sawbridge 78, Mr. Alderman Townſhend 70, in oppoſition to Mr. Alderman

Rofteter 69, Mr. Alderman Bird 67. For Major Generals, Meff. Mitchell 79, Coke 76, in oppofition to Meff. Wyatt 68, Ruffell 67. For Adjutant General, Mr. Miller 77, againft Mr. Crock 67. Sir Richard Glynn was in the Chair, and infpected the proceedings; but a fcrutiny being demanded, the Court adjourned till the 18th of June next.

APRIL 4. The Pretender was married the 28th of laft month at St. Germains, in France, by proxy, to a Princefs of Stolberg, who fet off immediately for Italy to join him.

Yefterday a patent paffed the Great Seal appointing John Skynner, Efq; one of the Juftices for the counties of Chefter, Montgomery, Flint, and Denbigh, in the room of Taylor White, Efq; deceafed.

Alfo a patent paffed appointing James Foffer, Efq; Chief Juftice of Ely, to be one of the King's Serjeants at Law, in the room of Richard Leigh, Efq; deceafed.

A new writ is iffued out for electing a Member for Woodftock, in the room of John Skynner, Efq.

Colonel Keith, now Sir John Murray Keith, his Majefty's Ambaffador at the Court of Denmark, is appointed to the command of the 47th regiment of foot, in the room of Lieutenant General Lafcelles, deceafed.

Lord and Lady Holderneffe are going fhortly to Holland, to take poffeffion of a very confiderable eftate which has been left the Counteff (who is a native of that country) by an aunt of her Ladyfhip's, lately deceafed.

Extract of a letter from Hamburgh, March 27.

"We have three poffs due from Sweden and two from Denmark, owing to the Great and Little Belt being frozen, fo as to render the paffage not only difficult but dangerous. However we are informed by good authority, that the Danifh miniftry is not a little embarraffed to find out how to fatisfy Colonel Keith, the Britifh Minifter at Copenhagen, who has demanded a categorical anfwer in the name of the King his mafter, concerning the fate of the Queen. It is faid that the King of Denmark will foon go to Holftein, and that during his abfence the Counts de Struenfee and de Brandt will be executed. The other prifoners, it is thought, will be fet at liberty, there not being fufficient proofs againft them to affect their lives.

"The peace which was looked upon as fo near between Ruffia and the Porte is now confidered very differently; and it is thought there will be another campaign. The Turkifh Divan will abfolutely not accept of the conditions propofed by Ruffia."

It is faid that the King, who has frequently expreffed his difapprobation of the cuftom at the Chapel Royal of faluting him at the altar from the pulpit, has now actually given orders that no homage fhall henceforth be paid in the houfe of God but to the King of Kings.

From one of the King's meffengers, who arrived on Thurfday evening from Dublin, we learn that the lift of the regulars, killed and wounded, which lately appeared in a letter from the North of Ireland, was extremely incorrect; very few officers, and not fifty men, having been killed and wounded in the late fkirmifh with the Hearts of Steel.

Orders are given for all officers and fubalterns belonging to regiments on duty in Edinburgh, Glafgow, Leith, and Dunbar, to join their corps without delay.

A few opulent gentlemen have lately purchafed all the allum at the feveral works in this kingdom.

Yefterday at a meeting of the fubfcribers to endeavour to leffen the prefent high price of provifions, at the King's Arms, in Cornhill, they came to feveral refolutions; the principal of which were, that a committee of forty-two fubfcribers be chofen, which were accordingly chofen; that three gentlemen of the committee be appointed to act as treafurers, who were accordingly chofen; that three fubfcribers, not of the committee, be chofen as auditors, who are to infpect the accounts of the committee, which accounts are to be laid before a general meeting every three months; that a call be made of ten per cent. and that no future call be made but by order of a general meeting. Full power is given to the committee to difpofe of the money, and to employ fuch perfons as they fhall think proper to carry the defigns of the fubfcribers into execution.

On Thurfday night the wife of William Chefterman, labourer, in Little Queen Anne-ftreet, behind the Middlefex Hofpital, was brought to bed of a girl, and yefterday morning fhe was delivered of another girl, and alfo a boy, and they are all likely to live.

It is not uncommon for perfons who have long acted againft the conviction of their confciences, to be at laft given up as reprobate, and feized with a fatal blindnefs, like that of the Jews. Thus hardened in erroneous, impolite, and deftructive conduct, the Miniftry contemn the cries of the poor, and rely upon that infamous corruption for their fupport, which hath been the caufe of the people's complaints. On the very brink of a precipice they fee no danger. Nothing can open their eyes. Quos Deus vult perdere, prius dementat. The blackeft clouds from every quarter are collecting, and yet they feem to apprehend no ftorm. But when the thunder of popular refentment fhall roll, and its avenging lightnings flafh, where will they fly for fhelter? From the unregarded grievances of the people, and their intolerable want of the neceffaries of life, what dreadful commotions may we not fear? In Ireland, popular infurrections, arifing from the fame caufes, have already commenced. The people there are up in arms, and have, it is faid, fought and beat the military. Is there not too much reafon to apprehend, that the fame caufe will have the fame effect in this kingdom? The people, now ftarving here, may probably think they may as well die by fire and fword as by famine; and yet, what fteps have the Miniftry taken to relieve the preffing neceffities of the poor, and prevent the terrible calamities of a general commotion? Is not fuch a conffideration of infinitely higher importance, and much more wanted, than ftretching the prerogative of the Crown, and paffing a bill for the future marriages of the royal family? If the Miniftry have any regard for their own fafety, they would, one would think, hearken to the cries of the people, and immediately take fuch falutary meafures as may relieve their urgent neceffities; for dreadful will be the conffequences, if they are left to the law of nature, and fhall carve out a cure for themfelves.

A moft powerful Lady at the Court of St. James's, in uniting her influence with the Scottifh faction, has been wife enough to make certain pecuniary ftipulations for herfelf; to fecure immediate advancement for her brethren in his Majefty's Electoral dominions, and to obtain for them a promife in future of naturalization, with Engliff honours and offices.

Yefterday their Graces the Dukes of Manchefter and Beaufort, in the Upper Houfe, and Lord Milbourn and Mr. Fox, in the Lower, prefented bills for reducing the price of meat and corn.

Matthew Lewis, Efq; is appointed firft clerk of the War-office.

Captain Atkins is appointed to the command of his Majefty's floop Scorpion, at Deptford, in the room of Captain Cook.

Extract of a letter from Portfmouth, April 3.

"This day a new dock was opened, and the Britannia, of 100 guns, went in to have a thorough repair."

A few days fince Mr. Robert Grant, junior, of Doctors Commons, was appointed principal Clerk of the Admiralty Office, in that place, in the room of Mr. Anderfon, deceafed.

APRIL 11. Yefterday there was a Levee at St. James's, and alfo a Privy Council.

Yefterday morning fome important difpatches arrived at Lord Hillfborough's Office from Lord Charles Greville Montagu, Governor of South-Carolina, which were brought by the Pallas, Capt. Bayley, and afterwards fent to his Majefty.

Among other plans for the improvement of commerce, we hear it is under conffideration to make the ifland of Bermuda a free port, in conffequence of fome late petitions laid before the Board of Trade and Plantations.

Thurfday at three o'clock the Committee that was appointed to fearch into the Journals, upon the indignity that was offered to the Houfe of Commons, the firft day of April, in fending the Clerk Affiftant, with one of the Maffers in Chancery, with a Bill from the Lords, made their report to the Houfe, which was read by the Clerk at the table, when the Committee could find no Precedent of the Affiftant Clerk ever attending before, and likewife was read the behaviour that the Speaker and four other Members received when they were attending their duty in the Houfe of Lords, in being rudely turned out by the Doorkeepers. Lord Folkftone then got up and mentioned to the Houfe what the Committee had done, and therefore begged leave to make a Motion that he had in his hand, which was, that the Bill which was brought up by the Meffengers from the Houfe of Lords on the firft day of April, not being the ufual Meffengers, be fent back to the Lords, which was objected to by the Miniftry as being unprecedented, and would tend to create a difturbance between the two Houfes, when the queftion being put, the Houfe divided 57 for the motion, and 107 againft it.

Another motion was then moved for by the Miniftry, to fend an humble meffage to the Lords, acquainting them that their laft meffage was unufual, which was objected to by the Minority; but, upon a divifion there appeared 105 for, 55 againft. The Minority then moved for a conference to be held between the houfes, which was objected to by the Miniftry, upon a divifion of 51 for the conference, 117 againft it.---Thus ended the long debate.---

The Petition that was prefented from the City of London on Tuefday laft, for an Act to allow Importation of Corn, &c. from the American Colonies, was ordered to lie on the table, as were alfo all the Petitions from other parts of the kingdom, from which it is inferred, that the Importation will not be allowed this feffions.

Yefterday morning the remains of the Earl of Catherlough, were carried from his houfe in Golden Square, with great funeral pomp, to be interred near Hendley, in Warwickfhire.

It is reported that matters are at length accommodated between our Court and that of Copenhagen; and that the Queen, who is releafed from her confinement, is vifited twice a-day by Colonel Keith, the Engliff Ambaffador.

It is alfo reported that the Count de Struenfee will be pardoned through the powerful mediation of a refpectable maritime power.

Orders are fent to the men of war that are to compofe the fquadron intended for the protection of the Newfoundland Fifhery, to be in the Downs by the firft of next month.

Thurfday Sir George Colebrooke, Bart. was chofen Chairman of the Court of Directors of the Eaft-India Company, and Lawrence Sulivan, Efq; Deputy Chairman for the enfuing year.

APRIL 13. His Majefty will go to the Houfe of Lords to-morrow, to fign fuch bills as are ready for the Royal affent.

A bill for rendering more effectual an act for building a new pariff church, for declaring the prefent church a chapel, and for making a cæmetery or church yard in the pariff of St. Mary-le-bone in the county of Middlefex, is read the firft time, and ordered to be read a fecond time.

The new bill for the preffervation of the game is recommitted.

A bill for building a bridge acrofs the River Tyne, from Newcaftle to Gateffead, in the county of Durham, is read a firft time, and ordered to be read a fecond time.

The bill to enable their Majefties to infranchife copy hold eftates, holden of the manor of Richmond, will be taken into further conffideration this day in the Houfe of Commons.

The Houfe of Commons have given orders, that an account be laid before them, fhewing in what manner the monies given for the fervice of the year 1771, have been expended, diftinguifhed under their feveral heads.

An account of the difference between Britifh and Irifh pay of the 64th and 65th regiments of foot, ferving in the year 1768, is laid before the Houfe of Commons.

Leave is given to build two additional churches in the town of Birmingham in the county of Warwick.

It is faid that the Eaft-India affairs will not take near fo much time as was firft imagined: The feveral parties having already adjufted and confented to the terms of the propofed bill.

The Magiftrates of the borough of Colcheffer have petitioned the Houfe of Commons for the free importation of corn, and of all kinds of provifions, into the feveral ports of this kingdom.

There are no lefs than twenty-fix appeals now waiting to be heard by the Houfe of Lords, five of which are againft decrees of the prefent Chancellor.

It is thought that the Chancellor will attend to no public bufinefs during the remainder of the feffion.

In conffequence of an inffolvent bill, which is now under conffideration of the Irifh Houfe of Commons, numbers are privately making over their fortunes to their friends, to enable them to liquidate their debts under this fanction. We therefore hope, as there is a fimilar bill now depending here, our guardians will provide againft its becoming any other than a benefit to the unfortunate.

The act lately figned by his Majefty, faid to be an act to take off one fhilling per lb. on all black and finglo teas, is a miftake, it fhould have been faid, an act to explain and amend an act for taking off one fhilling per lb. on all black and finglo teas, which expires on the 5th of July next, at which time the fhilling per lb. will be again laid on.

A caufe of great importance, relative to the property of an ifland called Mill ifland, has for fome days been heard by a Committee of the Privy Council at the Treafury. This place lies near Philadelphia, in the river Delaware, and has been fettled for many years, though it is alledged that the property has never been legally granted by the Crown; in conffequence of which Lord Rochford has petitioned for and obtained it, as far as the King's right extends, and the trial now turns on thefe queftions; whether it has not been granted by his Majefty's predeceffors, and whether, after the term of a certain poffeffion, the Crown has a power to difpoffefs the inhabitants?

An unknown correfpondent fays he knows one fcheme, which, if adopted, would do more real fervice to the nation than any thing that has been done for a century back, which is fimply this; let dry docks be made for his Majefty's fhips, build houfes or fheds over them, to lie dry and clean; at the end of 20 years a fhip will be as good and better than the day fhe was launched. The author of this intelligence farther fays, if he was called upon, he could point out the beft fpot in this kingdom for the above purpofe.

Lord Sandwich, &c. with many foreign ambaffadors, and perfons of diffinction, are expected at Woolwich to-morrow, to go on board the Refolution now lying there, and to take a final leave of Mr. Banks, Dr. Solander, and Captain Cook, &c. before their departure on their intended voyage to the South Pole.

BRISTOL, April 9. Thurfday night was brought to this city, by Habeas Corpus, from Reading jail, and lodged in Newgate, Jonathan Britain, to take his trial for forgery at our affizes, which begins the 28th inftant.

DUBLIN, March 20. The Houfe of Commons being this day informed that fome miftakes had been made in tranfcribing the revenue bill, which had paffed the Houfe, and was ordered to be carried to the Lord Lieutenant, to be tranfmitted in due form. On this occafion, Mr. Prime Serjeant moved to have the faid bill recommitted, that thefe miftakes might be rectified. Sir Lucius O'Brian, Mr. Ponfonby, and Mr. Burgh faid, they agreed to have the miftakes rectified, but would have the caufe of recommitting the bill fpecified in the order, that it might not be drawn into a precedent. For it would be very dangerous to the conftitution, if bills once paffed the Houfe, fhould be brought into it again, before they were tranfmitted, as in fuch cafe, an important bill might be carried in favour of any laudable meafure, by a very fmall majority in a full Houfe, and then, if it was difagreeable to adminiftration, it might be brought back, under pretence of rectifying miftakes, when the Houfe was thin, and the Court thereby fure of a majority, and fuch alteration might be made as would overturn the original intention. Thefe ideas feemed fo reafonable, and the caufes being affigned, the order was made for recommitting the faid bill.

April 4. Upon account of the vaft numbers of fraudulent bankrupts who petitioned the parliament to cheat their creditors, many merchants and others (in their own defence) have entered into affociations not to give credit to any man or woman in trade who fhall keep country feats, carriages, race, or hunting horfes, frequent gaming houfes of any kind, have drums, routs, or any other amufement, to their lofs of time, and the ruin of their families.

CONSTANTINOPLE, February 3. It is reported here, that Ali Bey has fworn fidelity to the Ruffians, and that by the help of their fleet, he has taken the Ifle of Cyprus, and has given them a port on it; and that the Ruffians having now a free navigation in all the ports of Egypt, are furnifhing themfelves with proviffions from Alexandria. It is faid, that the Grand Vizir has called the famous Cara Ofman Oglou, formerly Governor of Smyrna, to be about his perfon.

We do not yet fee any great likelihood of a fpeedy conclufion of peace. It is ten days fince a Ruffian commiffary was faid to be on his way for this capital, to negociate a treaty of pacification; but it feems fo improbable, that few people believe the truth of it.

We have received accounts here, that Prince Heraclius has broken the truce which he had agreed to with the Porte, and joined the Ruffians.

February 17. The 12th inft. a fire broke out in the quarter of Samatia, which laffed fix hours, and burnt down more than 300 houfes any many fhops. Two days after a fire broke out in the village of Jenekeni, which conffumed 17 palaces belonging to the principal Greeks.

WARSAW, February 26. The convoy of filver, fo long impatiently expected to arrive from Lithuania, amounting to four millions of Polifh florins, is at length fafely arrived here. We were greatly afraid of the Confederates meeting with it on the way; but we are now delivered from our fears on that head.

The advices we received in relation to the fignature of the Preliminaries for a Peace between the Ruffians and Turks are not confirmed; neither has Count Saltern, the Ruffian Ambaffador, publifhed any thing in relation to it. On the contrary, the Ruffians are making the greateft preparations for another campaign.

WARSAW, March 7. Notwithftanding the pofitive affurances we had here a few days ago, of the fignature of the preliminaries of peace between the Ruffians and the Turks, nevertheleff we have not yet received any further information refpecting it; and we are even ignorant of the day on which the preliminaries were figned. We are informed, that the orders from the Court of Peterfburgh are to fet on foot ten regiments of light troops, and to continue vigorouffly the levies for the regiment of Hungarian huffars, commanded by Colonel Drewitz; and that the three fquadrons which are in Moldavia with the army of Count Romanzow, have received orders to march towards this city.

March 11. Notwithftanding tranquillity feems again eftablifhed in Lithuania, its not fo here; for it feems as if a freff attempt was apprehended againft our Sovereign's life. The Ruffians are all night under arms, and have placed piquets in all the fquares, and cannon in all the ftreets; the Caffle guard has been reinforced with 100 men; as foon as it is duff chains are put acrofs the gates, and no perfon in a carriage is fuffered to enter after eight o'clock, nor on foot after ten. It is faid, that thefe meafures are taken on a report of fome fpies who have been arrefted, and who report that more than 300 Confederates of Pulawfki's corps are already in town, and that more are expected foon. For which reafon General Ribikow is affembling all the troops he can get, and has poffed a party in our fuburbs.

ROME, March 11. The Duke of Glouceffer ffill continues here and receives great fatisfaction in viewing the paintings, &c. in this city. Sunday laft his Royal Highneff was at Porta-Salara, the feat of Cardinal Alex. Albani, to which place the latter had invited many Cardinals, as well as Foreign Ambaffadors, &c. and entertained them with a fpiritual concert, which was followed by a moft fplendid collation. The day following his Royal Highneff was at Belvidere, where Prince Aldobrandi provided a fumptuous dinner for him, after which he returned to this city.

HAMBURGH, March 20. The Court and domeftics of Queen Carolina Matilda, are changed, and at the head of the former is the Lady D'Ablefeldt. A penfion of 30,000 crowns is faid to be affigned to her Majefty; it is added, that the Miniffers who were fent to meet at Cronenbourg the 8th of this month, were with her only a quarter of an hour, being charged only with one queftion, to which they were to receive her anfwer. They returned on the 13th, but it is not confirmed that they were attended by Mr. Keith.

BERLIN, March 21. The Queen of Sweden, accompanied by the Princefs her daughter, went to Potzdam the beginning of this week, as alfo did Prince Henry of Pruffia and Prince Frederick of Brunfwick. Yefterday the Ducheff of Brunfwick went to that place, and his Majefty entertained his Royal Gueffs at the new palace of Sans Souci. They are to ftay fix days, during which there will be operas, plays, and other amufements. They will then all, except his Majefty, return to this city, where preparations are making to receive them, fuitable to their high rank.

The weather, which for this laft fortnight has been remarkably fevere, is now very fine; and the apprehenfions of a third bad year, which would inevitably have caufed a famine, are now, in a great meafure, at an end.

PARIS, March 23. The eighth of this month, at feven in the evening, Mr. Montagne difcovered a comet at Limoges, near the ftar α of the fourth magnitude, in the conffellation Eridanus.

SAVANNAH, (Georgia) APRIL 29.

THE General Aſſembly of this province met on Tueſday the 21ſt inſtant, when the Honourable Commons Houſe made choice twice of Noble-Wimberly Jones, Eſq; to be their Speaker, but he was rejected by his Honour the Preſident. Next day the Houſe choſe him a third time, when he declined taking the chair; then Archibald Bulloch, Eſq; was elected, who being preſented to the Preſident was approved of, and his Honour was pleaſed to deliver the following SPEECH to both Houſes, viz.

Honourable Gentlemen,
Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

HIS Majeſty having been pleaſed to grant his Excellency Governor Wright his leave of abſence to go to Great-Britain, the government of this province, on his Excellency's departure, devolved upon me. I am very ſenſible of the high and important truſt committed to me, which calls for the utmoſt exertion of my beſt abilities to diſcharge, ſo as to approve myſelf to our moſt gracious Sovereign, by promoting the true intereſt and proſperity of his good ſubjects of this province, to effect which you may depend on my moſt ſincere and unwearied endeavours. My long reſidence in this province, and the ſtrong attachment I muſt have for its welfare, from motives obvious to you, muſt make it extremely grateful to me to be in the leaſt inſtrumental in furthering its growing proſperity, in which I am perſuaded I ſhall have the candid advice and aſſiſtance of you, Gentlemen, and of every friend to his country.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

In a letter I have received from the Earl of Hillſborough, one of his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State, reſpecting the conduct of the Aſſembly in February 1771, particularly in their impriſoning the Deputy Secretary, for declining to be examined by a Committee of that Aſſembly upon oath, and that of an unuſual nature, I am commanded to ſignify to you his Majeſty's diſapprobation of the meaſures purſued by that Aſſembly, and his firm reſolution not to ſuffer the continuance of any Aſſembly that ſhall adopt ſuch unjuſtifiable claims, and preſume to arrogate powers ſo dangerous to the Liberty of the ſubject. And in another letter I have lately received from his Lordſhip, in reſpect to the proceedings of the late Aſſembly, I have it alſo in command from the King to ſignify to you his Majeſty's diſapprobation of their conduct, in regard to the unwarrantable and unconſtitutional doctrines and principles held forth in their reſolution relative to the Governor's right of negativing the Speaker, and his Majeſty's reſolution to reſiſt with firmneſs every attempt to violate the conſtitution; that his Majeſty is, however, graciouſly diſpoſed to believe that ſuch doctrines are not the ſenſe of the people in general, but that they have been taken up in a moment of inconſiderate heat, as they do not correſpond with thoſe ſentiments of loyalty and duty ſo repeatedly expreſſed by his Majeſty's faithful ſubjects in Georgia.

Gentlemen,

As I know it is not convenient for many of you to be abſent from your private buſineſs at this ſeaſon of the year, I wiſh to make this ſeſſion as ſhort and as little burthenſome to you as poſſible; and therefore I ſhall only recommend to your conſideration ſome few matters which you may eaſily diſpatch, and ſuch other things as are not immediately neceſſary may be deferred to a future meeting. There are ſeveral uſeful laws that will expire with the preſent ſeſſion, or are near expiring, which are proper to be continued, and at a more convenient time, if any alterations and amendments are neceſſary, you can more maturely take them under conſideration; and particularly I recommend to your attention the continuation of the "Act for raiſing a certain number of watchmen for preſerving good order in and about the town of Savannah." The utility of this law is ſo apparent that I need not point out the neceſſity of giving it a further exiſtence. I have the pleaſure to acquaint you, that, in conſequence of the ſatisfaction demanded of the Creek Indians, they have put to death the Indian who murdered John Carey, one of the inhabitants of Queenſborough, the beginning of December laſt, in the preſence of ſeveral of the traders; an event that is highly ſatisfactory, as it ſtrongly indicates their friendly diſpoſition and deſire to maintain the peace which at preſent ſubſiſts between the Engliſh and them. If any occurrences ſhould ariſe during your preſent meeting, that may appear to be worthy of your immediate conſideration, I ſhall communicate them to you by meſſage.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

I have ordered the ſtate of the public debts to be laid before you, and I can make no doubt of your taking the moſt effectual and leaſt burthenſome method of diſcharging them, as the maintenance of the public faith and credit is of the greateſt conſequence to the honour and welfare of the province. Suffer me, Gentlemen, to perſuade you to purſue peace and harmony, and carefully to avoid all unneceſſary altercations, which can only tend to delay buſineſs, and deſtroy that candor, unanimity, and confidence, ſo neceſſary to promote the general good, for which end you meet in General Aſſembly, and you may depend on my hearty concurrence in every meaſure that may conduce to the ſervice of his Majeſty and the Province, which are inſeparable.

To the Honourable JAMES HABERSHAM, Eſquire, Preſident and Commander in Chief in and over his Majeſty's Province of Georgia, Vice-Admiral and Chancellor of the ſame.

The ADDRESS of the UPPER HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

WE his Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Council of Georgia, in General Aſſembly met, beg leave to thank your Honour for your ſpeech delivered to both Houſes of Aſſembly, and to expreſs our ſatisfaction that the government of this province has, in the abſence of Governor Wright, devolved on a gentleman of your Honour's well known character, and attachment to the real welfare of Georgia, from whence we entertain the firmeſt dependance, that to promote its growing proſperity will be the favourite object of your adminiſtration, and you may be aſſured that we ſhall moſt readily and chearfully concur with your Honour in every meaſure that may contribute to ſo deſirable an end.

We ſhall proceed with all the diſpatch poſſible to take under conſideration ſuch matters as may appear to be more immediately neceſſary for the public good, in particular the continuation of ſuch laws as are near expiring.

It is with the greateſt pleaſure we learn that, in conſequence of the ſatisfaction demanded, the Creek Indians have put to death one of their people who murdered the inhabitant at Queenſborough. This unexpected and unhoped for event we congratulate your Honour upon, as it clearly proves the ſincere diſpoſition of that nation to maintain a peaceable and friendly correſpondence with us.

We can aſſure your Honour, that we ſhall, on every occaſion, endeavour to maintain and ſupport the public faith, and that our proceedings ſhall be conducted with that candor, harmony and unanimity, which muſt render the taſk eaſy to us, and we hope be of real utility to his Majeſty's ſervice and the true intereſt of this province, which, as your Honour juſtly obſerves, are inſeparable: and in theſe ſentiments we are hopeful every branch of the legiſlature will agree, which will be the beſt and moſt effectual means of making us a truly flouriſhing and happy people.

By Order of the Houſe, N. JONES.

To the above addreſs his Honour was pleaſed to return the following ANSWER, viz.

Honourable Gentlemen,

I RETURN you my moſt ſincere and hearty thanks for this very kind addreſs; and, from my long knowledge of, and connexion with you, I am fully convinced of your readineſs to promote the public buſineſs and the real welfare of this province, and I think myſelf very happy in the aſſurance you give me that I ſhall have your candid advice and aſſiſtance to enable me to diſcharge the arduous truſt which is repoſed in me.

From the JOURNALS of the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, 24th APRIL, 1772.

A MESSAGE from his Honour the PRESIDENT.

Mr. Speaker,

HIS Honour the Preſident commands the attendance of your Clerk with the journals of this Houſe in the Council Chamber immediately.

SATURDAY, 25th APRIL, 1772.

The following Addreſs to his Honour the Preſident was read and approved of, and a committee appointed to wait on his Honour to know when he will be pleaſed to receive the ſame.

To his Honour JAMES HABERSHAM, Eſq; &c.

The Humble ADDRESS of the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

WE his Majeſty's dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Commons of Georgia, in General Aſſembly met, return your Honour our ſincere thanks for your ſpeech delivered to us at the opening of this ſeſſion.

We thank you, Sir, for your warm expreſſions of attachment and good diſpoſition towards the province, and we readily perſuade ourſelves that the truſt repoſed in you by his Majeſty, your long reſidence amongſt us, and anxiety for our proſperity, will point out to your Honour the moſt ſalutary ſteps neceſſary to be purſued at this important juncture.

We are truly ſenſible of the detriment that muſt ariſe to our private affairs on account of meeting at this inconvenient ſeaſon, and nothing but the welfare of our conſtituents could induce us to neglect our private concerns at this time, added to the neceſſity we ſee of proceeding upon buſineſs and ſupporting the public faith. We ſhall therefore endeavour to avoid every impediment that can poſſibly ariſe to obſtruct theſe deſirable ends, and poſtpone every matter that ſhall not appear immediately neceſſary. We obſerve with pleaſure the account your Honour hath received of the ſatisfaction being obtained from the Creek Indians for the murder committed by one of their people at Queenſborough; a circumſtance which ſhews their peaceable diſpoſition towards us.

When a ſtate of the public debts ſhall be laid before us, we will readily take into our ſerious conſideration what your Honour is pleaſed to recommend reſpecting them.

A MESSAGE from his Honour the PRESIDENT.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

I AM extremely ſorry to find by your journals that ſome very exceptionable minutes are entered: I particularly mean your third choice of Noble-Wimberly Jones, Eſq; as your Speaker, upon whom I had, agreeable to his Majeſty's expreſs directions, twice put a Negative, and that your choice of your preſent Speaker was only in conſequence of his declining the chair. If this minute is to ſtand upon your journals, I have no choice left but to proceed to an immediate diſſolution; I therefore deſire you will come to a preſent and ſpeedy determination to recede from it; if you do, I ſhall, with the moſt unfeigned ſatisfaction, proceed to buſineſs, which you cannot but be ſenſible will be of the higheſt advantage to the province.

I ſhall expect your immediate anſwer to this meſſage, that my conduct may be regulated by it, and ſhall for that purpoſe remain in the Council Chamber.

A MESSAGE to his Honour the PRESIDENT.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

THIS Houſe, having taken into conſideration your meſſage of this day, have appointed a committee to meet this afternoon to draw up an addreſs in anſwer thereto, which they doubt not will be ſatisfactory.

To his Honour JAMES HABERSHAM, Eſq; &c.

The Humble ADDRESS of the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

WE his Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Commons of Georgia, in General Aſſembly met, are very unhappy to find, by your meſſage to us of this day, that any minutes entered in our journals ſhould be conſtrued by your Honour in a manner ſo very different from the true intent and deſign of this Houſe. Conſcious we are, Sir, that our third choice of Noble-Wimberly Jones, Eſq; as our Speaker, was not in the leaſt meant as diſreſpectful to his Majeſty, or you his repreſentative, nor thereby did we mean to infringe on the juſt prerogative of the Crown. We have ſeriouſly reconſidered that particular minute which ſeems to have given your Honour ſo much offence, and cannot perceive wherein it is contrary to the ſtrict mode of parliamentary proceeding, or repugnant to any thing communicated to us by your Honour. We were hopeful that no further impediment would have ariſen to retard the urgent buſineſs of the public, and ſtill flatter ourſelves that we may be permitted to do that juſtice to our conſtituents which they have a right to expect from us, and we do ſincerely aſſure your Honour, that it is our hearty wiſh and deſire to finiſh the buſineſs recommended to us by you with all harmony and diſpatch.

A MESSAGE from his Honour the PRESIDENT.

Mr. Speaker,

HIS Honour the Preſident deſires the attendance of this Houſe immediately.

Accordingly Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, went to attend his Honour in the Council Chamber, and his Honour was pleaſed to make the following SPEECH, viz.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

WHEN we met in Aſſembly I was truly diſpoſed to enter upon the public buſineſs in ſuch a manner as to promote and facilitate, as much as in me lay, ſuch matters as were immediately neceſſary for the welfare of the province, in which I hoped to be candidly aſſiſted by every branch of the legiſlature.

As a proof of this on my own part, I did in a few hours after I was made acquainted with your choice of a Speaker, and before I had returned an anſwer to your meſſage on that head, communicate to moſt of the members of your houſe his Majeſty's inſtructions to me to put a negative on ſuch perſon as ſhould be choſen Speaker by you, and, after giving you ſome time to conſider, I then acted in obedience thereto, and directed you to proceed to the choice of ſome other perſon. Notwithſtanding this, you a ſecond time choſe the ſame gentleman, and although I then ought to have proceeded to a diſſolution of the Aſſembly, yet, out of tenderneſs to the province, and that the conſequence of my taking ſuch a ſtep might be avoided, I ventured to put a ſecond negative on him, and gave you directions once more to chuſe another perſon as your Speaker. Your next meſſage acquainted me that you had proceeded to a choice, and upon your preſenting Archibald Bulloch, Eſq; your preſent Speaker, I approved of him, and went upon the uſual buſineſs of the ſeſſion; but on finding by your journals that, previous to your choice of Archibald Bulloch, Eſq; you had a third time choſen Noble-Wimberly Jones, Eſq; your Speaker, and that only in conſequence of his declining you had made your preſent choice, ſtill anxious for the public good, and wiſhing to remove every obſtacle that might impede our acting together with that candor and harmony that I hoped would ſubſiſt between us, I communicated to your Speaker two days ago my exceptions to the minute entered on your journals reſpecting your third choice of Mr. Jones, and that I could not poſſibly proceed to buſineſs while it was ſuffered to remain.

After ſo much time to deliberate on this head, I was in hopes not to have been under the neceſſity of ſending you a meſſage this morning, which I did that you might not plead you were unacquainted in a public manner with my objections, and that you would, by a ready acquieſcence in what my duty obliged me to require of you, have enabled me to have concurred with you in carrying on the public buſineſs. In this I am ſorry I have been miſtaken, and that the addreſs you have preſented to me, in anſwer to my meſſage, by no means clears up the point in queſtion, and obliges me, in purſuance of his Majeſty's commands, to proceed to a diſſolution of this Aſſembly.

From this clear and plain ſtate of the fact as it ſtands between us, I think I may, with great propriety, ſubmit it to the judgment of all good and unprejudiced men, whether the inevitable bad conſequences to this province, which I am certain will attend the ſtep I muſt take, is the effect of my conduct or yours. I do therefore, purſuant to his Majeſty's commands, diſſolve this General Aſſembly, and the ſame is accordingly diſſolved.

The BRITISH CONSTITUTION compared to a SHIP.

From the FAREWELL to the FLEET at SPITHEAD, a new POEM juſt publiſhed.

NOW hope deſcends on downy wing,
And ſmiles exulting in my heart,
Gay proſpects in my boſom ſpring,
Which comfort to my ſoul impart.

That ſons of virtue, noble, brave,
Will freely take the helm of ſtate,
And ſteer her thro' the boiſt'rous wave,
Pregnant with Britannia's fate.

Tho' ſhatter'd in her maſts and ſails,
Her planks eat thro', and ſprung her beams,
Grown leaky by repeated gales,
Her oakum burſt from all her ſeams.

Tho' lurking inſects ſecret lay,
And all the ſtately pile deſtroy,
Blindly bore their dang'rous way,
And all their dirty arts employ.

Yet, Briton's ſons will greatly dare,
To bring her ſafely into port,
And uſe the utmoſt of their care,
The falling fabrick to ſupport.

To dock, to ſheath, and to repair,
To burn theſe vermin from each cell,
Mix'd fire and brimſtone to prepare,
The earneſt of a future hell.

Her timber, beams, real heart of oak,
In ſtrong connection fix her frame,
Her plank faſt bound by caulker's ſtroke,
The utmoſt of their myſt'ry claim.

Her maſts and ſails both firm and good,
Her rigging new, no contract vile,
That ſucks the nation of her blood,
The greateſt peſt on Britain's iſle.

Her guns and powder ſafe on board,
Ready for ſervice and for ſea,
With good proviſion amply ſtor'd,
Of ev'ry ſpecies and degree.

This royal veſſel to command,
Muſt not be famed for veering,
Muſt nimbly reef, and quickly hand,
Perfectly expert in ſteering.

He muſt be noble, juſt, and good,
Honeſt, true, and firmly ſteady,
Willing to ſhed his deareſt blood,
When his country calls him—ready.

His officers of gallant turn,
In duty ſtaunch, bold, and hearty,
Who for their country's glory burn,
No ſons of faction's party.

Strangers to avarice, as to pride,
No ſelfiſh, ſordid ſchemes purſue,
The nation's good, their certain guide,
The only point they keep in view.

In firmeſt compact, ſtrong unite,
And jointly urge their country's cauſe,
Her intereſts, their ſole delight,
Will always merit our applauſe.

Then quickly form and wedge your ranks,
Solid and fixt as nature's mount,
Cover your wings, and line your flanks,
Nor never quit fair honour's ground.

Then virtue will her ſtandard rear,
The brighteſt flag that ever wav'd,
Britain's Myriads will appear,
And thank you for a country ſav'd!

When! all of honeſt, good, and great,
Gives emulation all her ſway,
Whilſt vice is from her quarter's beat,
And moral duties grace the day.

True merit will diſtinguiſh'd riſe,
And vice neglected leave the land,
From your white cliffs ſhe quickly flies,
And virtue re-aſſumes command!

Pardon the muſe, with virtue fir'd,
And lend, ye great! a liſt'ning ear,
Attend the lay, by truth inſpir'd,
And in your proper light appear.

'Tis your's! to draw the ſtated line,
The force of your example prove,
And in the paths of virtue ſhine,
The reſt will correſpondent move.

SAVANNAH, (Georgia) APRIL 29.

THE General Aſſembly of this province met on Tueſday the 21ſt inſtant, when the Honourable Commons Houſe made choice twice of Noble-Wimberly Jones, Eſq; to be their Speaker, but he was rejected by his Honour the Preſident. Next day the Houſe choſe him a third time, when he declined taking the chair; then Archibald Bulloch, Eſq; was elected, who being preſented to the Preſident was approved of, and his Honour was pleaſed to deliver the following SPEECH to both Houſes, viz.

Honourable Gentlemen,

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

HIS Majeſty having been pleaſed to grant his Excellency Governor Wright his leave of abſence to go to Great-Britain, the government of this province, on his Excellency's departure, devolved upon me. I am very ſenſible of the high and important truſt committed to me, which calls for the utmoſt exertion of my beſt abilities to diſcharge, ſo as to approve myſelf to our moſt gracious Sovereign, by promoting the true intereſt and proſperity of his good ſubjects of this province, to effect which you may depend on my moſt ſincere and unwearied endeavours. My long reſidence in this province, and the ſtrong attachment I muſt have for its welfare, from motives obvious to you, muſt make it extremely grateful to me to be in the leaſt inſtrumental in furthering its growing proſperity, in which I am perſuaded I ſhall have the candid advice and aſſiſtance of you, Gentlemen, and of every friend to his country.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

In a letter I have received from the Earl of Hillſborough, one of his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State, reſpecting the conduct of the Aſſembly in February 1771, particularly in their impriſoning the Deputy Secretary, for declining to be examined by a Committee of that Aſſembly upon oath, and that of an unuſual nature, I am commanded to ſignify to you his Majeſty's diſapprobation of the meaſures purſued by that Aſſembly, and his firm reſolution not to ſuffer the continuance of any Aſſembly that ſhall adopt ſuch unjuſtifiable claims, and preſume to arrogate powers ſo dangerous to the Liberty of the ſubject. And in another letter I have lately received from his Lordſhip, in reſpect to the proceedings of the late Aſſembly, I have it alſo in command from the King to ſignify to you his Majeſty's diſapprobation of their conduct, in regard to the unwarrantable and unconſtitutional doctrines and principles held forth in their reſolution relative to the Governor's right of negativing the Speaker, and his Majeſty's reſolution to reſiſt with firmneſs every attempt to violate the conſtitution; that his Majeſty is, however, graciouſly diſpoſed to believe that ſuch doctrines are not the ſenſe of the people in general, but that they have been taken up in a moment of inconſiderate heat, as they do not correſpond with thoſe ſentiments of loyalty and duty ſo repeatedly expreſſed by his Majeſty's faithful ſubjects in Georgia.

Gentlemen,

As I know it is not convenient for many of you to be abſent from your private buſineſs at this ſeaſon of the year, I wiſh to make this ſeſſion as ſhort and as little burthenſome to you as poſſible; and therefore I ſhall only recommend to your conſideration ſome few matters which you may eaſily diſpatch, and ſuch other things as are not immediately neceſſary may be deferred to a future meeting. There are ſeveral uſeful laws that will expire with the preſent ſeſſion, or are near expiring, which are proper to be continued, and at a more convenient time, if any alterations and amendments are neceſſary, you can more maturely take them under conſideration; and particularly I recommend to your attention the continuation of the "Act for raiſing a certain number of watchmen for preſerving good order in and about the town of Savannah." The utility of this law is ſo apparent that I need not point out the neceſſity of giving it a further exiſtence. I have the pleaſure to acquaint you, that, in conſequence of the ſatisfaction demanded of the Creek Indians, they have put to death the Indian who murdered John Carey, one of the inhabitants of Queenſborough, the beginning of December laſt, in the preſence of ſeveral of the traders; an event that is highly ſatisfactory, as it ſtrongly indicates their friendly diſpoſition and deſire to maintain the peace which at preſent ſubſiſts between the Engliſh and them. If any occurrences ſhould ariſe during your preſent meeting, that may appear to be worthy of your immediate conſideration, I ſhall communicate them to you by meſſage.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

I have ordered the ſtate of the public debts to be laid before you, and I can make no doubt of your taking the moſt effectual and leaſt burthenſome method of diſcharging them, as the maintenance of the public faith and credit is of the greateſt conſequence to the honour and welfare of the province. Suffer me, Gentlemen, to perſuade you to purſue peace and harmony, and carefully to avoid all unneceſſary altercations, which can only tend to delay buſineſs, and deſtroy that candor, unanimity, and confidence, ſo neceſſary to promote the general good, for which end you meet in General Aſſembly, and you may depend on my hearty concurrence in every meaſure that may conduce to the ſervice of his Majeſty and the Province, which are inſeparable.

To the Honourable JAMES HABERSHAM, Eſquire, Preſident and Commander in Chief in and over his Majeſty's Province of Georgia, Vice-Admiral and Chancellor of the ſame.

The ADDRESS of the UPPER HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

WE his Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Council of Georgia, in General Aſſembly met, beg leave to thank your Honour for your ſpeech delivered to both Houſes of Aſſembly, and to expreſs our ſatisfaction that the government of this province has, in the abſence of Governor Wright, devolved on a gentleman of your Honour's well known character, and attachment to the real welfare of Georgia, from whence we entertain the firmeſt dependance, that to promote its growing proſperity will be the favourite object of your adminiſtration, and you may be aſſured that we ſhall moſt readily and chearfully concur with your Honour in every meaſure that may contribute to ſo deſirable an end.

We ſhall proceed with all the diſpatch poſſible to take under conſideration ſuch matters as may appear to be more immediately neceſſary for the public good, in particular the continuation of ſuch laws as are near expiring.

It is with the greateſt pleaſure we learn that, in conſequence of the ſatisfaction demanded, the Creek Indians have put to death one of their people who murdered the inhabitant at Queenſborough. This unexpected and unhoped for event we congratulate your Honour upon, as it clearly proves the ſincere diſpoſition of that nation to maintain a peaceable and friendly correſpondence with us.

We can aſſure your Honour, that we ſhall, on every occaſion, endeavour to maintain and ſupport the public faith, and that our proceedings ſhall be conducted with that candor, harmony and unanimity, which muſt render the taſk eaſy to us, and we hope be of real utility to his Majeſty's ſervice and the true intereſt of this province, which, as your Honour juſtly obſerves, are inſeparable: and in theſe ſentiments we are hopeful every branch of the legiſlature will agree, which will be the beſt and moſt effectual means of making us a truly flouriſhing and happy people.

By Order of the Houſe, N. JONES.

To the above addreſs his Honour was pleaſed to return the following ANSWER, viz.

Honourable Gentlemen,

I RETURN you my moſt ſincere and hearty thanks for this very kind addreſs; and, from my long knowledge of, and connexion with you, I am fully convinced of your readineſs to promote the public buſineſs and the real welfare of this province, and I think myſelf very happy in the aſſurance you give me that I ſhall have your candid advice and aſſiſtance to enable me to diſcharge the arduous truſt which is repoſed in me.

From the JOURNALS of the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, 24th APRIL, 1772.

A MESSAGE from his Honour the PRESIDENT.

Mr. Speaker,

HIS Honour the Preſident commands the attendance of your Clerk with the journals of this Houſe in the Council Chamber immediately.

SATURDAY, 25th APRIL, 1772.

The following Addreſs to his Honour the Preſident was read and approved of, and a committee appointed to wait on his Honour to know when he will be pleaſed to receive the ſame.

To his Honour JAMES HABERSHAM, Eſq; &c.

The Humble ADDRESS of the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

WE his Majeſty's dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Commons of Georgia, in General Aſſembly met, return your Honour our ſincere thanks for your ſpeech delivered to us at the opening of this ſeſſion.

We thank you, Sir, for your warm expreſſions of attachment and good diſpoſition towards the province, and we readily perſuade ourſelves that the truſt repoſed in you by his Majeſty, your long reſidence amongſt us, and anxiety for our proſperity, will point out to your Honour the moſt ſalutary ſteps neceſſary to be purſued at this important juncture.

We are truly ſenſible of the detriment that muſt ariſe to our private affairs on account of meeting at this inconvenient ſeaſon, and nothing but the welfare of our conſtituents could induce us to neglect our private concerns at this time, added to the neceſſity we ſee of proceeding upon buſineſs and ſupporting the public faith. We ſhall therefore endeavour to avoid every impediment that can poſſibly ariſe to obſtruct theſe deſirable ends, and poſtpone every matter that ſhall not appear immediately neceſſary. We obſerve with pleaſure the account your Honour hath received of the ſatisfaction being obtained from the Creek Indians for the murder committed by one of their people at Queenſborough; a circumſtance which ſhews their peaceable diſpoſition towards us.

When a ſtate of the public debts ſhall be laid before us, we will readily take into our ſerious conſideration what your Honour is pleaſed to recommend reſpecting them.

A MESSAGE from his Honour the PRESIDENT.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

I AM extremely ſorry to find by your journals that ſome very exceptionable minutes are entered: I particularly mean your third choice of Noble-Wimberly Jones, Eſq; as your Speaker, upon whom I had, agreeable to his Majeſty's expreſs directions, twice put a Negative, and that your choice of your preſent Speaker was only in conſequence of his declining the chair. If this minute is to ſtand upon your journals, I have no choice left but to proceed to an immediate diſſolution; I therefore deſire you will come to a preſent and ſpeedy determination to recede from it; if you do, I ſhall, with the moſt unfeigned ſatisfaction, proceed to buſineſs, which you cannot but be ſenſible will be of the higheſt advantage to the province.

I ſhall expect your immediate anſwer to this meſſage, that my conduct may be regulated by it, and ſhall for that purpoſe remain in the Council Chamber.

A MESSAGE to his Honour the PRESIDENT.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

THIS Houſe, having taken into conſideration your meſſage of this day, have appointed a committee to meet this afternoon to draw up an addreſs in anſwer thereto, which they doubt not will be ſatisfactory.

To his Honour JAMES HABERSHAM, Eſq; &c.

The Humble ADDRESS of the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

WE his Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Commons of Georgia, in General Aſſembly met, are very unhappy to find, by your meſſage to us of this day, that any minutes entered in our journals ſhould be conſtrued by your Honour in a manner ſo very different from the true intent and deſign of this Houſe. Conſcious we are, Sir, that our third choice of Noble-Wimberly Jones, Eſq; as our Speaker, was not in the leaſt meant as diſreſpectful to his Majeſty, or you his repreſentative, nor thereby did we mean to infringe on the juſt prerogative of the Crown. We have ſeriouſly reconſidered that particular minute which ſeems to have given your Honour ſo much offence, and cannot perceive wherein it is contrary to the ſtrict mode of parliamentary proceeding, or repugnant to any thing communicated to us by your Honour. We were hopeful that no further impediment would have ariſen to retard the urgent buſineſs of the public, and ſtill flatter ourſelves that we may be permitted to do that juſtice to our conſtituents which they have a right to expect from us, and we do ſincerely aſſure your Honour, that it is our hearty wiſh and deſire to finiſh the buſineſs recommended to us by you with all harmony and diſpatch.

A MESSAGE from his Honour the PRESIDENT.

Mr. Speaker,

HIS Honour the Preſident deſires the attendance of this Houſe immediately.

Accordingly Mr. Speaker, with the whole Houſe, went to attend his Honour in the Council Chamber, and his Honour was pleaſed to make the following SPEECH, viz.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

WHEN we met in Aſſembly I was truly diſpoſed to enter upon the public buſineſs in ſuch a manner as to promote and facilitate, as much as in me lay, ſuch matters as were immediately neceſſary for the welfare of the province, in which I hoped to be candidly aſſiſted by every branch of the legiſlature.

As a proof of this on my own part, I did in a few hours after I was made acquainted with your choice of a Speaker, and before I had returned an anſwer to your meſſage on that head, communicate to moſt of the members of your houſe his Majeſty's inſtructions to me to put a negative on ſuch perſon as ſhould be choſen Speaker by you, and, after giving you ſome time to conſider, I then acted in obedience thereto, and directed you to proceed to the choice of ſome other perſon. Notwithſtanding this, you a ſecond time choſe the ſame gentleman, and although I then ought to have proceeded to a diſſolution of the Aſſembly, yet, out of tenderneſs to the province, and that the conſequence of my taking ſuch a ſtep might be avoided, I ventured to put a ſecond negative on him, and gave you directions once more to chuſe another perſon as your Speaker. Your next meſſage acquainted me that you had proceeded to a choice, and upon your preſenting Archibald Bulloch, Eſq; your preſent Speaker, I approved of him, and went upon the uſual buſineſs of the ſeſſion; but on finding by your journals that, previous to your choice of Archibald Bulloch, Eſq; you had a third time choſen Noble-Wimberly Jones, Eſq; your Speaker, and that only in conſequence of his declining you had made your preſent choice, ſtill anxious for the public good, and wiſhing to remove every obſtacle that might impede our acting together with that candor and harmony that I hoped would ſubſiſt between us, I communicated to your Speaker two days ago my exceptions to the minute entered on your journals reſpecting your third choice of Mr. Jones, and that I could not poſſibly proceed to buſineſs while it was ſuffered to remain.

After ſo much time to deliberate on this head, I was in hopes not to have been under the neceſſity of ſending you a meſſage this morning, which I did that you might not plead you were unacquainted in a public manner with my objections, and that you would, by a ready acquieſcence in what my duty obliged me to require of you, have enabled me to have concurred with you in carrying on the public buſineſs. In this I am ſorry I have been miſtaken, and that the addreſs you have preſented to me, in anſwer to my meſſage, by no means clears up the point in queſtion, and obliges me, in purſuance of his Majeſty's commands, to proceed to a diſſolution of this Aſſembly.

From this clear and plain ſtate of the fact as it ſtands between us, I think I may, with great propriety, ſubmit it to the judgment of all good and unprejudiced men, whether the inevitable bad conſequences to this province, which I am certain will attend the ſtep I muſt take, is the effect of my conduct or yours. I do therefore, purſuant to his Majeſty's commands, diſſolve this General Aſſembly, and the ſame is accordingly diſſolved.

The BRITISH CONSTITUTION compared to a SHIP.

From the FAREWELL to the FLEET at SPITHEAD, a new POEM juſt publiſhed.

NOW hope deſcends on downy wing,
And ſmiles exulting in my heart,
Gay proſpects in my boſom ſpring,
Which comfort to my ſoul impart.

That ſons of virtue, noble, brave,
Will freely take the helm of ſtate,
And ſteer her thro' the boiſt'rous wave,
Pregnant with Britannia's fate.

Tho' ſhatter'd in her maſts and ſails,
Her planks eat thro', and ſprung her beams,
Grown leaky by repeated gales,
Her oakum burſt from all her ſeams.

Tho' lurking inſects ſecret lay,
And all the ſtately pile deſtroy,
Blindly bore their dang'rous way,
And all their dirty arts employ.

Yet, Briton's ſons will greatly dare,
To bring her ſafely into port,
And uſe the utmoſt of their care,
The falling fabrick to ſupport.

To dock, to ſheath, and to repair,
To burn theſe vermin from each cell,
Mix'd fire and brimſtone to prepare,
The earneſt of a future hell.

Her timber, beams, real heart of oak,
In ſtrong connection fix her frame,
Her plank faſt bound by caulker's ſtroke,
The utmoſt of their myſt'ry claim.

Her maſts and ſails both firm and good,
Her rigging new, no contract vile,
That ſucks the nation of her blood,
The greateſt peſt on Britain's iſle.

Her guns and powder ſafe on board,
Ready for ſervice and for ſea,
With good proviſion amply ſtor'd,
Of ev'ry ſpecies and degree.

This royal veſſel to command,
Muſt not be famed for veering,
Muſt nimbly reef, and quickly hand,
Perfectly expert in ſteering.

He muſt be noble, juſt, and good,
Honeſt, true, and firmly ſteady,
Willing to ſhed his deareſt blood,
When his country calls him—ready.

His officers of gallant turn,
In duty ſtaunch, bold, and hearty,
Who for their country's glory burn,
No ſons of faction's party.

Strangers to avarice, as to pride,
No ſelfiſh, ſordid ſchemes purſue,
The nation's good, their certain guide,
The only point they keep in view.

In firmeſt compact, ſtrong unite,
And jointly urge their country's cauſe,
Her intereſts, their ſole delight,
Will always merit our applauſe.

Then quickly form and wedge your ranks,
Solid and fixt as nature's mount,
Cover your wings, and line your flanks,
Nor never quit fair honour's ground.

Then virtue will her ſtandard rear,
The brighteſt flag that ever wav'd,
Britain's Myriads will appear,
And thank you for a country ſav'd!

When! all of honeſt, good, and great,
Gives emulation all her ſway,
Whilſt vice is from her quarter's beat,
And moral duties grace the day.

True merit will diſtinguiſh'd riſe,
And vice neglected leave the land,
From your white cliffs ſhe quickly flies,
And virtue re-aſſumes command!

Pardon the muſe, with virtue fir'd,
And lend, ye great! a liſt'ning ear,
Attend the lay, by truth inſpir'd,
And in your proper light appear.

'Tis your's! to draw the ſtated line,
The force of your example prove,
And in the paths of virtue ſhine,
The reſt will correſpondent move.
